

Spotted along the way

Spotted some Ghia's the last couple weeks. One in a town nearby my hometown. The owner was desperatly trying to get the Ghia back on the road. The other Karmann Ghia was spotted in Amsterdam. I've seen this one before in Amsterdam, and in all the years I've seen it, it isn't getting any better. Also mounted the whitewall trims on my own convertible, looking much better. Watch for yourself....